ARTIST CONVERTS OLD ADOBE BUILDING INTO AN UP-TO-THE-MINUTE STUDIO

ALFRED JAMES DEWEY, well-known Sierra Madre artist, has opened a studio in the "Old Adobe" at 35 East Montecito avenue.

Because of the increasing attendance in his classes in the technique of painting it became necessary for Mr. Dewey to secure a larger and more centrally located studio.

The old adobe building across from the Sierra Madre Lumber Co., has long intrigued artists. The broken surface plaster leaving exposed handmade old adobe bricks forms lines beyond the skill of man to create or imitate.

According to Miss Daisy E. Hawks, the old building was built by her father, A. D. Hawks, Sierra Madre pioneer in 1900, to be used as a house for curing lemons. The adobe bricks were made and molded by a Mexican. When in the course of construction Mr. Hawks discovered that the walls were "out of plumb" he discharged the worker and finished the building himself with the aid of his son Jim.

Now, mellowed and softened by time, the large square one-room house makes an ideal studio. A skylight has been placed in the north roof, and the artist has arranged electric lighting for the best effect. The interior, of unfinished adobe bricks, has been painted pale gray to lighten the value and to prevent further disintegration of the old clay.

Mr. Dewey has already moved much of his working equipment to the new workshop from his studio-home on Marlborough Terrace, and his classes are meeting in the unfinished studio. His etching and lithographing press have been installed, and about the room are evidences of the labors of art in various media and stages.

Formal opening reception date will be announced as soon as the studio is completed, according to Mr. Dewey.

ANTICIPATING a busy and interesting program in many activities, the Woman's Club of Sierra Madre is planning among other things to keep the clubhouse open all day next Tuesday, to serve in an advisory capacity and aiding members and friends regarding the many propositions which appear on Tuesday's ballot. Transportation will also be provided to and from the polling places.

Seriousness will be abandoned in the evening when the club in conjunction with the local Forum will give a pot luck dinner at the club house at 6:30, followed by a brief but fascinating color picture on trees.

This short program will be given with picture illustrations by Mrs. Rollin B. Lane of Los Angeles. Following the picture the club members, with their friends, and the Forum members and their friends will remain at the clubhouse and listen to the election returns by means of a radio.

Among other activities on the club calendar is the play "The Late Christopher Dean," now in rehearsal under the direction of Mrs. Cecily A. Allen, which will be presented on the night of December 16th.

Next Wednesday night, the regular bridge tournament will be held at the clubhouse, beginning at 7:30. Cash prizes will be awarded at the close of the tournament and refreshments served. Those wishing to play may call Mrs. John C. James for reservations. These bridge games are open to the public and everyone is cordially invited.

Wednesday morning the garden section of the club will make a tour of gardens of the city, which will be followed by a dessert bridge, in the afternoon, beginning at 12:30. Mrs. R. H. McCollough is taking reservations for the dessert bridge.

On November 18th the club will give a concert for its own benefit in which Miss Moreland Kortkamp, Miss Elizabeth Morgridge and Donald Thayer will make their appearance. These people are well known in the musical world, and since the club is to derive the benefit, it is expected to have 100 per cent co-operation of club members and other music lovers of this city.

Proposition Number 22

26 States now have laws regulating the progress and development of the chain stores. Evidence that the chains escape their proper share of the tax load has been proven beyond any question in all of the above states.

Senator Copeland of New York recently said: "Not only do the Chain stores fail to support the community by paying decent wages, but it takes no part in the civic life, the men who run these establishments are largely transients. Many old established concerns are driven out of business, whose proprietors played an important part in the civic and political life and assisted in the upbuilding of the community."

Senator Cummings of Michigan, said: "Something must be done at once to curb the encroachment of the Chain Stores' menace on the Independent merchants, not only of Michigan but of every state in the Union. Chain store Monopoly is the greatest curse confronting the American merchants and a problem that must be immediately met by far-reaching legislation."

Representative Smith of Pennsylvania: "Stringent laws should be enacted at once to prevent further undermining of the Independent Merchants by the Chain store operators". The system is un-American, destroys initiative and if permitted to continue will eventually place the food-stuffs of the United States directly under the control of a few powerful corporations who can then regulate prices to suit their pleasure."

The amount of money spent by the chains to defeat this law, demonstrates their ability to pay this tax, without any raise in the prices of their merchandise. If they are successful in defeating laws properly passed by our State Legislature what other established rules of business will they seek to destroy next?

The maximum amount of tax required by this law will be $1.37 per day per store. This will be from stores whose sales will run as high as $500.00 to $1,000 per day.

The statement by the chain stores that the middlemen are behind this law is ridiculous. The largest grocery wholesaler in the state is the WESTERN STATES WHOLESALE GROCERY CO., this organization is owned by the largest chain grocery in the state. And it is through this organization that they hope to control the sale of groceries in this state.

The Retail Store License was passed by our State Legislature by the overwhelming vote of 102 to 12. Here alone is evidence of the value of such a measure.

Individual effort and enterprise and their reward are thoroughly American

Dog Owners Warned As Case Of Rabies Is Discovered Here

Following disposal because of rabies of a dog belonging to Fred Pagenkopf, of 52 West Laurel avenue, last Thursday, Chief of Police G. G. McMillan yesterday warned all dog owners to keep their pets under observation and immediately report any dog showing rabid symptoms.

Should the current rabies epidemic spread to Sierra Madre, the Chief pointed out it would be necessary to quarantine all dogs. To prevent such a situation, Sierra Madreans are asked to co-operate with police and watch their dogs carefully during the next few weeks.

Several officers will be stationed at the school grounds during the evening, Chief McMillan said.

CINDERELLA THEATRE AND WORKSHOP TO BE IN OPERATION HERE IN SHORT TIME

In the near future the Cinderella Work Shop and Theatre will be in operation. It is hoped that "Great oaks" will grow from the "tiny acorns" planted by friends of the Children's Dramatic Guild.

Plans have been drawn for the erection of a stage, and donations from Mrs. Edith Kenney, Mrs. Bertha Rolfe, Mrs. Mary de Winstanley and Mr. Waverly Pratt have made the purchase of some chairs possible. The name of the donor will be attached to each chair at the opening of this miniature theatre.

The amount needed to finance the building of the stage is augmented each week by the earnings of the children and gifts from those interested in the Guild's work.

Through the courtesy of Prof. Ivan Karaloff, a Hallowe'en party was given in the studio last Thursday evening. Irene Lloyd, Guild president, and Doris Pickett, were in charge of the affair. The children had a very happy time. The program enjoyed by Guild members at last Saturday's meeting was an impromptu affair arranged by Mary Lou Lovejoy in the absence of Howard de Winstanley, chairman of the day.

Big Conduit Being Filled With Water

Water from two 2-inch pipe lines is going into the Grand View Avenue tunnel at the rate of approximately 1,000 cubic feet a day, the city water department explained yesterday, in announcing the progress of the now famous "water test" of the local bore.

The pipe lines are hooked onto two fire hydrants, one at Michilinda boulevard and Highland avenue and the other at Grand View and Mountain Trail avenues. The water is being drawn from the Mira Monte and Grove street reservoirs, into which close to 25,000 cubic feet of gravity water is flowing daily.

City officials pointed out that the Metropolitan Water District is paying standard rates for the water which, when the test is completed, will be released down East Grand View avenue into the city's spreading grounds.

Principal purpose of the test is to allow the water to seep through into the concrete lining of the bore so as to "plug it up."

Latest Culinary Kinks To Be Shown In Big Food Show

Novelties such as flavored waffles, ready-mixed flours, vegetable baby food in cans, fruit-bread loaves, irradiated milk, and self-measuring shortening are some of the brand new products to be introduced to Mr. and Mrs. Public at the 1936 Food and Household Show, November 8 to 15, in Los Angeles' Ambassador Auditorium.

Outstanding exhibits just announced include a model glass house, with all operations of a modern home carried in full view of visitors; a gigantic display of the latest in model home equipment by the National Gas Bureau, largest exhibit of the show; and a huge educational exhibit by the National Livestock and Meat Board, instructing housewives how to buy meat economically.

Dozens of exhibitors will have model kitchens in operation to demonstrate their products and many will show actual processing of products and display ingredients used. Every afternoon, elaborate demonstrations, lectures and entertainments will be staged by home economics experts in line with the show theme, education of the housewife to advances in the food industry.

Stars of radio, screen and stage will entertain nightly.

Ballot Proposals Will Be Explained At Elks Meeting

The Monrovia Elks at their session Monday, November 2nd, will hold a public meeting, to which all voters are invited. The meeting will start at 7:30 at which time Judge Sturgeon will discuss the several propositions on the November 3rd ballot. Nothing of a political nature will be mentioned, but since there is much doubt in the minds of many voters as to the exact meaning of several propositions the Elks feel they will be doing a public service in having these points cleared up. The public meeting will be short and snappy, to clear the decks for the regular Lodge session.

Stripped of its "WHISKERS"

PROPOSITION #22 IS A TAX ON YOU!

You must defeat it or pay it—in HIGHER PRICES ON FOOD AND OTHER NECESSITIES

There is a "joker" in Proposition 22 on your November ballot!

Called a "Retail Store License," it looks innocent enough. But stripped of its disguise, it is a Tax that will have to be passed on to you in higher prices.

It provides that chain stores selling food and other necessities will be taxed $500.00 a year for each store over nine. Individual stores will pay only $1.00 a year—or one five-hundredth as much.

BUT...

...says the U.S. Federal Trade Commission:

"If the ability to undersell, based on greater efficiency or on elimination of credit and delivery cost, is destroyed by taxation, it is the consuming public which will really pay the tax and not the chain."

BECAUSE...

...as the Harvard (University) Bureau of Business Research discovered in studying 32,998 chain stores...chain stores operate on a small profit. They eliminate middleman's profits and unnecessary in-between expenses. The savings they make by operating efficiently are passed on to you in prices 10% below the average.

Four out of five chain stores do not make enough profit to cover the tax. Thus some of them will be forced out of business—allowing their competitors to raise prices.

Surviving chains will be forced to raise their prices to pay the tax.

Either way, you will foot the bill.

Remember, this tax is admittedly not for revenue purposes. It is cleverly camouflaged subsidy for the middleman and wasteful business methods—at your expense.

If you think that chain store competition helps to keep all prices in line with your pocketbook—if you think that you already PAY ENOUGH TAXES ON FOODS AND OTHER NECESSITIES, vote NO and keep prices low.

For no matter how named...no matter how heavily disguised...22 is a tax on you...VOTE NO!

22 IS A TAX ON YOU—VOTE NO!

DON'T BE AFRAID

Don't be afraid of the huge ballot you will receive at your district polling place next Tuesday. You have made up your mind, in all probability, who you will support for the various offices, especially the Presidency. Go and vote your conviction. It is a great privilege not enjoyed in most countries. Be thankful that you are an American and exercise it. It is a solemn duty of every good citizen. Sometimes we are afraid the opportunity will not always be at hand with crackpots, Communists and agitators allowed the license they enjoy to attack the very fundamentals of the Nation. And yes, we believe in free speech to the last word, but not in anarchy.

The 23 ballot proposals may seem bewildering. But you can always vote "no" and be on the safe side if you do not fully comprehend the propositions. And it seems to THE NEWS that any of the proposals could be defeated without seriously affecting the people of California. Approval of some would undoubtedly help a bit, but they are negligible in number.

But for those who wish to vote intelligently on the ballot proposals THE NEWS is presenting in this issue a series of articles intended solely for the information of its readers. In an article written especially for this newspaper, Assemblyman Frank G. Martin has given an unbiased statement showing the intent of the 23 proposals from which any voter can form his own judgment of the merits of each proposition.

E. W. Camp, noted member of the American Bar Association and one of Sierra Madre's and Southern California's most distinguished citizens, has contributed an article on four proposals dealing with one subject.

The Commonwealth Club, California's leading organization, has furnished THE NEWS with the findings of its especially equipped committees that studied each proposal, after which the findings were debated and the club negotiated 13 of the 23 proposals.

Also is presented action of the Bureau of Municipal Research which negated an even greater number of proposals, bearing out our suggestion that a sure path for the timid or uninformed voter is to vote "no" on all the proposals.

As to candidates, we have the greatest respect for California's poet laureate who now represents the district in Congress, Mr. McGroarty is a good citizen, a fine American but a notably poor Congressman, being absent or not voting when the most vital questions have come to a vote in the House of Representatives and later charging that President Roosevelt was making the laws and that the Congressmen, including himself, were merely rubber stamps.

Our Assemblyman has given a splendid account of himself. His faithful attention to the welfare of the district he represents has been in marked contrast with that of Mr. McGroarty. He met every question, voted on every bill courageously. His integrity has never been questioned and he has devoted much time and personal interest to the welfare of Sierra Madre. We hope and believe Frank G. Martin's Sierra Madre neighbors will reward his faithful service with a substantial vote of confidence and appreciation.

BEWARE

Beware of innocent-looking Proposition No. 7 on your ballot next Tuesday. As sure as Southern California is sunny it will raise your taxes, create a preferred class among the citizenry, keep incompetents in office and further befuddle your municipal affairs. THE NEWS believes in the merit system but regards No. 7 as a most dangerous proposition.

EFFECT OF 23 BALLOT PROPOSALS EXPLAINED BY ASSEMBLYMAN MARTIN

Board and local school boards with jurisdiction to hear and decide charges against instructors. It empowers the proposed State Tenure Board to sustain or overrule such decision by local school boards. Opponents of this measure emphasize that organizations representing 93 per cent of the teachers of the State, the Parent-Teacher Association, the American Association of University Women and other organizations oppose this measure. They say it is unnecessary because California already has a tenure law enacted by the Legislature, "which is regarded as a model throughout the United States."

Proposal No. 12. Senate Constitutional Amendment, would create a Court of Criminal Appeal consisting of a chief and four associate justices with 12-year terms to succeed to jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, in death penalty cases and criminal jurisdiction of District Courts of Appeal. Opponents say this proposed new court is not needed and that it would increase governmental costs $100,000 a year. Senator Scollan, writing the argument against this measure, says: "So far as it appears, the only benefit from the creation of this court would be to the persons appointed to and employed by it." Verbum sat sapienti.

Getting On Dangerous Ground

Proposal No. 13. Assembly Constitutional Amendment, provides a extension of the power of eminent domain to a State agency or corporation operating and controlling any exposition or fair which is aided by public money. This would authorize an eminent domain proceeding, the taking of immediate possession of right-of-way, property or lands acquired for public use by depositing in court sufficient money to pay subsequent award of compensation. It is primarily designed to speed up preparation for the proposed Pacific Exposition in Los Angeles.

Proposal No. 14. Assembly Constitutional Amendment, provides a method by which any county, regardless of population, having one or more incorporated cities within its boundaries, may frame and adopt a charter for a consolidated city and county government having the same boundaries as the former county. There would seem to be no reasonable objection to this proposal.

Proposal No. 15. Assembly Constitutional Amendment, gives unqualified approval to the grant of relief by the Legislature to over-burdened special assessment districts. It would ratify all action of the Legislature heretofore adopted providing for such relief. A meritorious measure, in my estimation.

Proposal No. 16. Assembly Constitutional Amendment, a simple matter of arithmetic and flexibility of funds in water districts. Authorizes temporary transfer of funds to pay interest and principal of bonds issued by water districts. I can see no objection to this measure.

Dairymen Have A Plan

Proposal No. 17. Assembly Constitutional Amendment, simplifies the method of levying taxes upon personal property and assessments in certain counties. An economy measure.

Proposal No. 18. Referendum, proposes to hold up and nullify an act of the Legislature of 1935 which provides an excise tax of 10 cents per pound on oleomargarine containing any fat or oil ingredients other than any one or more of the following: Oleo oil, oleo stock, olea stearine from cattle, neutral oil from hogs, sheep fat, cottonseed oil, peanut oil, corn oil or milk fat. This measure proposed by dairy interests of California; aimed at oleomargarine containing ingredients imported from abroad. If you favor this tax, vote "Yes;" if you oppose the tax, vote "No."

Proposal No. 19. Assembly Constitutional Amendment, provides that both houses of the Legislature may expend not to exceed $5,000 each to compile histories of bills, resolutions and constitutional amendments so that these may be distributed to the people. A worthy measure.

Proposal No. 20. Assembly Constitutional Amendment, authorizes the Legislature and the governing bodies of counties, cities and other political subdivisions having authority to acquire and maintain publicly-owned museums or art galleries to contract leases with non-profit corporations for the management and control of any part or all of the exhibits of such museums and art galleries. In favor of this measure it is cited that the great Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City and the Chicago Institute of Art are operated in this way.

Separate Prison For Women

Proposal No. 21. Senate Constitutional Amendment, authorizes the Legislature to establish and maintain separate institutions for women convicted of felonies. It particularly applies to the State Prison for women at Tehachapi. Provides for control of such prison by a board of which the majority shall be women. This amendment has the endorsement of practically all the women's organizations of California.

Proposal No. 22. Referendum, known as the Chain Store Tax. The measure as passed by the Legislature prescribes a license fee for each store up to nine and $500 for each store beyond nine. If you favor the chain store tax, vote "Yes;" if opposed to it, vote "No."

Proposal No. 23. Assembly Constitutional Amendment. Authors of this measure urge voters to defeat it. It is not properly drawn. Vote "No."

Proposal No. 24. Assembly Constitutional Amendment. An economy measure. Don't miss the opportunity to vote "Yes." Provides that when a city or county decides to hold an election on adopting a new charter that one election instead of two will decide whether a new charter is wanted and also decide who shall be the freeholders to draft it.

A DUTY WELL DONE

In the midst of the hottest campaign in recent times the high standards of journalism have been maintained by the newspapers of the country. Most of the mudslinging has been done on the "stump," and exaggerated ego has been transferred by the radio to receiving sets in every part of the Nation.

The voter who has failed to discover in this battle a "campaign of education" must blame himself. The editors of this country have done their duty without many slips.

LETTERS From Readers

ROBBING THE STATE

To the Editor of the Sierra Madre News:

I notice your newspaper is listed as having endorsed Proposition No. 4 on the November ballot. Whether considered from the standpoint of securing to the State the benefit of its own natural resources or from the standpoint of preserving the beaches and maintaining public parks for the people, I consider that this proposition No. 4 is against the public interest; that it will give to those controlling littoral lands hundreds of millions of dollars available to the State from rich oil and gas deposits underneath the tidelands, and that the propaganda being put forth to induce the people to vote for it is false and misleading.

I am enclosing herewith copy of a letter I have written to William E. Colby, chairman of the California State Park Commission, in answer to an argument made by him and others in support of proposition No. 4 that is printed in the pamphlets distributed by the Secretary of State to the voters. I also wish to call your attention to the argument by me in opposition to the measure, printed in the same pamphlets.

Very truly yours,

COLBERT L. OLSON
State Senator; Chairman of Special Committee of Senate on Investigation of Drainage of oil and gas from State Tidelands.
October 27, '36.

Branding "Proposition 22," the Retail Store License Tax (special tax on chain stores) as a menace to California business and wage-earning consumers, the public affairs committee of the Kiwanis Club of Los Angeles, yesterday recommended that members vote "no" when the proposed measure is submitted to them on the November ballot. The recommendations followed an exhaustive study of all measures on the November ballot by members of the committee.

FOUR BALLOT PROPOSALS DEALING WITH ONE SUBJECT EXPLAINED BY E. W. CAMP

By E. W. CAMP

NUMBERS five, six, thirteen and twenty on the ballot are parts of one plan and should be considered together.

A non-profit corporation has been organized, named Pacific Exposition. The hope of its promoters is to establish and maintain in Los Angeles a permanent exposition.

Number five would permit Los Angeles county, by two-thirds vote, to issue and sell bonds up to five million dollars and give the money to the Pacific Exposition to assist in creating its plans. Number six permits the City of Los Angeles, by vote of its people, to donate to the Pacific Exposition the use of city or school district lands, and vacate streets for use of the Exposition. If the Exposition is made permanent this donation of use would amount to a quit claim deed.

Number 13 gives the Pacific Exposition the right to condemn land and take immediate possession. That is, the company could file a complaint in condemnation, put up a bond and ask the court for an order allowing it to take possession at once instead of waiting till after judgment and payment of the amount decreed. This right of immediate possession has never been allowed in this State except in condemnations by some branch of the government. It is admittedly a harsh and dangerous prerogative. So this number is considered a bit raw by many supporters of the general plan, and really not necessary to the success of the scheme.

Number twenty permits Los Angeles County to turn over to the Pacific Exposition or a similar corporation, the museum maintained by the county at Exposition Park.

These measures, especially five and six, have strong support in the City of Los Angeles. Of course the city would have to pay by taxation a large part of the money raised by County bonds and turned over to the corporation.

That part of the plan may not look so pretty to outsiders. Dr. Millikan of Cal-Tech favors number twenty, but is not quoted as criticizing the county's management of its museum.

COMMONWEALTH CLUB RECOMMENDS 14 "NO" VOTES ON TUESDAY'S BALLOT PROPOSALS

THE Commonwealth Club, California's leading non-partisan organization, which takes public affairs seriously and assigns current problems to especially qualified committees for investigation, has furnished THE NEWS with a copy of its recommendations on the 23 ballot proposals that will confront the voter on the huge ballot that will be presented to him when he or she appears at the district polling place next Tuesday.

Though the membership of this organization is State-wide, its headquarters are in San Francisco. Following reports submitted by its various committees and full discussion on the floor, the organization has recommended "Yes" and "No" votes on the ballot proposals as follows:

Ballot No. 2, Personal Income Taxes, "NO;" 3, Liquor Control, no action; No. 4, Prohibiting Tideland Surface Drilling, Authorizing Slant Drilling from Uplands, "NO;" 5, Los Angeles County Exposition Bonds, "NO;" 6, Amending Los Angeles City Charter, "NO;" County and Municipal Civil Service, "NO;" 8, Registration of Voters, "NO;" 9, Intoxicating Liquors, Local Option, no action; 10, Motor Vehicle Dues Taxes and License Fees, "NO;" 11, Instructors' Tenure, "NO;" 12, Court of Criminal Appeals, "NO;" 13, Eminent Domain, "YES;" 14, Consolidated City and County Government, "YES;" 15, Relief to Assessment Districts, "YES;" 16, Water Districts and Water Conservation Districts, "YES;" 17, Computing Taxes on Unsecured Property, "YES;" 18, Oleomargarine Tax, "YES;" 19, Legislative Printing, "YES;" 20, Publicly-Owned Museums or Art Galleries, "NO;" 21, Penal Institutions for and Punishment of Female Felons, "NO;" 22, Retail Store License, "NO;" 23, Public Service Commission, "NO;" 24, Charters of Cities and Counties, "YES."

STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE GOES ON RECORD ON TUESDAY'S MANY BALLOT PROPOSALS

Directors of the California State Chamber of Commerce, in session yesterday, went on record as opposed to Propositions Nos. 8 and 12 on the November ballot, and approved Propositions Nos. 5, 6 and 20.

Proposition No. 6 deals with the present permanent registration law and No. 12 is designed to establish a Court of Criminal Appeals. No. 20, authorizing counties, municipalities and other political subdivisions to enter into contracts with non-profit California corporations for management and control of exhibits in museums and art galleries was approved by the Board because it will clear the way to acceptance of gifts of art works for public use and enjoyment, the directors said.

Propositions No. 5 and 6, enabling acts permitting the holding of a Pan-Pacific Exposition in Los Angeles at a future date, received endorsement of the State Chamber because such an exposition, it is believed, will stimulate trade relations with countries bordering the Pacific.

Previously the Board had gone on record as approving Proposition No. 3, concerning liquor control; Proposition No. 21, relating to the Tehachapi Prison for Women; and No. 4, relating to tideland oil drilling.

Measures opposed by the State Chamber directors, in previous action, included No. 2, repeal of the income tax; No. 7, relating to county and municipal civic service; Proposition No. 9, the local time measure; Proposition No. 10, concerning motor vehicle fuel taxes and license fees; Proposition No. 11, teacher's tenure; Proposition No. 18, the oleomargarine tax; Proposition No. 22, the chain store tax; and Proposition No. 23, relating to the Public Service Commission.

16 "NO" VOTES RECOMMENDED BY CIVIC BODY ON THE BALLOT PROPOSALS

In a bulletin just issued by the Bureau of Municipal Research respecting the 23 proposals that will appear on next Tuesday's ballot, seven questions are asked the voter, as follows:

1—Is it legislative in character? 2—Will it increase taxes? 3—Does it strait-jacket administrative discretion? 4—Does it create new governmental authority? 5—Does it entrench bureaucratic control? 6—Does it promote efficiency economically? 7—Is it recommended a "No" vote on 16 of the 23 proposals, as follows:

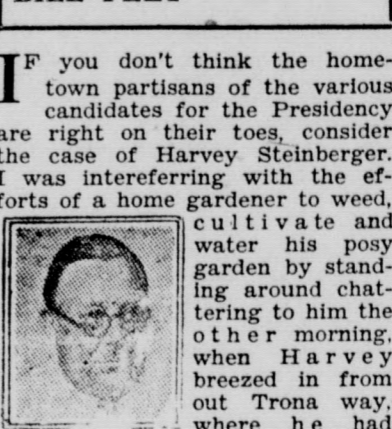

Number 2, Income Tax Repeal, "YES;" No. 3, Liquor Control, "NO;" No. 4, Tideland Drilling, "NO;" No. 5, Exposition Bonds, "NO;" No. 6, Pacific Exposition, "NO;" No. 7, Civil Service, "NO;" No. 8, Registration of Voters, "NO;" No. 9, Local Option, "NO;" No. 10, Fuel Taxes, "NO;" No. 11, Teachers Tenure, "NO;" No. 12, Criminal Court Appeals, "NO;"

No. 13, Eminent Domain, "NO;" No. 14, Consolidation, "YES;" No. 15, Assessment Relief, "YES;" No. 16, Water Funds, "YES;" No. 17, Computing Taxes, "YES;" No. 18, Oleomargarine Tax, "YES;" No. 19, Legislative Printing, "YES;" No. 20, Museums and Art, "YES;" No. 21, Women's Prisons, "NO;" No. 22, Retail Store License, "NO;" No. 23, Public Service Commission, "NO;" No. 24, City Charters, "NO;"

Gaddin' Around with BILL PEET

Peet

If you don't think the home-town partisans of the various candidates for the Presidency are right on their toes, consider the case of Harvey Steinberger. I was interfering with the efforts of a home gardener to weed, cultivate and water his posy garden by standing around chattering to him the other morning, when Harvey, breezed in from out Trona way, where he had been for some time at the desert gold mine owned jointly by him and brother Ike. Harvey paused long enough to say "hello" and wheezed on downtown to see whether the park, city hall or postoffice had moved during his absence. He was barren of any indication that a National election was soon to be decided. But not so when he returned our way half an hour later, headed for his domicile. No, sir... the efficient hometown partisans had gotten in their work and on the front of Harvey's shirt there blossomed a Landon, a Roosevelt and a Lemke badge. The Socialist and the Communist enthusiasts must have been in a church or standing around arguing with one another and didn't see Harvey. They've tried to make a sandwich man out of me, too, but a lovely little lady plattered a sunflower on my lapel down at the Pasadena station the other day when Governor Landon arrived. I was strong-limbed towards him before his arrival, but after looking him over and hearing him speak there is no room on my anatomy for anybody else's colors. He looks, acts and talks like a real honest to goodness, two-fisted American... You know, one of those guys you just feel a sense of supreme confidence in.

Three miles north of Claremont as you leave Foothill boulevard you drive into Padua Hills, one of nature's many beauty spots, where you will find the Little Theatre of the Padua Hills, dining rooms, studio shop and many exhibits... Quaint to the last word.

Padua Hills is probably known to many Sierra Madreans but in case some of our readers have never taken this trip I can heartily recommend it for a week end or Sunday diversion. You will be well repaid for your visit.

The history of Padua Hills is very interesting. Sierra Madreans undoubtedly know about it and space prohibits details in this column. The buildings of course are of Spanish architecture and the entertainers are Mexican and of Mexican parentage. Boys and girls who not only form the cast for various plays, but who wait on table do the cooking and other work required of them.

A Sunday night dinner at Padua Hills with entertainment throughout the meal by Mexican performers and the atmosphere of the place makes you feel like pinching yourself to see if you are awake or dreaming. Its like being suddenly transplanted to another country.

Motor out some time if you have never visited Padua Hills and if you do not enjoy yourself you are hard to please.

It's the war cry of the Pasadena Junior College football team and when chanted or shouted from hundreds of cheering section youngsters makes a profound impression on the opposition.

I heard the war cry for the first time at the annual Bulldog-Viking game at the Rose Bowl last week. The crowd estimated at 35,000, enjoyed the pageant tremendously and among the vast throng there were more than 100 persons from Sierra Madre.

Dave Pian and Mrs. Pian are doing their bit to make Sierra Madre a show place for visitors with an artist and well kept front yard and their attractive home in West Sierra Madre Boulevard, Mr. and Mrs. Pian's business place, Colorado Avenue near Marengo in Pasadena is the mecca for many Sierra Madreans who shop for smart hats and womens wearing apparel.

One of our busiest and bustling little politicians has already started Counting Democratic presidential votes and trying to figure how many Mr. Roosevelt will poll next week.

He should go to that swell little city of Upland and learn the sentiment there... Upland, I was told will go for Landon in a big way. Everybody in town blocked traffic at the railroad station when Landon's train stopped for a few minutes. They are all for the Republican candidate, too—for him hook line and sinker.

Selwyn Myers, son of Sierra Madre's city manager, is making a big hit as a radio broadcaster. He was starred from station KFI Los Angeles, Sunday afternoon in a cast presenting a comedy sketch featuring a mythical women's presidential campaign, and his voice registered clearly, almost what is known to broadcasters as a "perfect radio voice." The pression for minorities and if they believed "Communists should be thrown out of radio stations." "I believe in running this government by law, not by hurling rotten eggs," Mr. Martin promptly replied. His remark was seconded by Mr. Orme.

Preceding Mr. Martin's and Mr. Orme's addresses, Judge Edgar W. Camp analyzed Proposition Nos. 5, 6, 13 and 20—the so-called exposition measures. No. 5, he said, permits the county to bond itself for five million dollars and establish a permanent exposition at Los Angeles. No. 6 provides that the Los Angeles City and school district may donate land to the exposition corporation provided for in No. 5. No. 13 provides that the corporation may condemn lands and obtain immediate possession before paying for them—a very dangerous proceeding, according to the county counsel, Judge Camp said. No. 20 provides that an institution such as the Los Angeles Museum may be leased to a private corporation.

"If I were a stockholder in Bullock's or the May company," the Judge said, "I might favor these measures because they'd increase my business. Living here in Sierra Madre, however, I'm not so sure about them."

Picturing Burton Fitts as "a humane and efficient" district attorney, Mrs. Weirich of Hollywood opened the meeting with a brief campaign plea for Mr. Fitts' election. She said Mr. Fitts had saved taxpayers over $2,000,000 in the last four years by cutting costs of felony convictions, that he had raised the percentage of convictions from 59 per cent to 83 per cent and that only one out of every 454 convictions by his office had been reversed on appeal in the higher courts.

Stating he was endorsed by 103 ministers, she said his home town, Monrovia, was for Fitts 100 percent. "This ought to mean something," she said.

Mr. Martin was introduced by L. R. Goshorn, editor and publisher of THE NEWS, and Attorney Orme by Mrs. Grace B. Calkin, wife of the postmaster.

Practical Value Of Poetry To Be Shown At Woman's Club

"Poetry is a necessity, not a luxury; it not only brings joy but also shows the way to recovery from most individual and social disappointments and disasters," said Lucia Trent in announcing the second poetry gathering at the Woman's Club clubhouse. "The Practical Value of Poetry" will be the subject stressed next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the second of Poetry Workshop under the direction of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club Poetry Section, of which Lucia Trent is chairman, will be held for the entertainment and benefit of not only Woman's Club members but also of the public.

The first of these assemblies of poets and poetry-lovers proved such a success and attracted visitors from such a wide radius beyond Sierra Madre that a large attendance is expected.

Mrs. Phillip Senour says that a good spot for an ulcerated tooth is in somebody elses mouth. She has just gone through plenty of grief which included a badly swollen jaw... Warren E. Craig, our business neighbor across the street, comes from Missouri and is proud of it. How about that hard ball baseball diamond Mr. Myers? The boys here could use one... ### Margett Gives Four Reasons For Townsend Leaders Support Of Governor Landon

In the third of a series of personally financed State-wide radio broadcasts, Edward J. Margett, California State Director of the Townsend Recovery Plan, on Sunday took to the air to tell the Townsend people the reasons for Dr. Francis E. Townsend's support of Governor Alfred M. Landon.

Margett said the four reasons given by Dr. Townsend, founder and leader of the Plan, for his support of Governor Landon, were:

1—That the Roosevelt Administration, by steadfastly refusing to grant the Townsend Plan a hearing, was against the Townsend people.

2—That the Roosevelt Admin-

VISITOR HERE IN 1883 DESCRIBES OAK STUDDED PARADISE HE DISCOVERED

A WILDERNESS covered in part with a heavy growth of white oaks, and all of it with a tangled mat of sagebrush and poison-oak is the way E. T. Pierce, one of the early settlers here, describes the land on which Sierra Madre now stands, in a book titled "A Southern California Paradise." Published in Oakland, Calif., in 1883.

The volume, subtitled "A Historic and Descriptive Account of Pasadena, San Gabriel, Sierra Madre and La Canada," is the property of Mrs. Innes Kinney, daughter-in-law of Abbot Kinney, one-time owner of the famous Kinney Ranch here, and was brought to the attention of THE NEWS by Mrs. A. E. Barrett, of 37 Suffolk avenue.

The first lot in Sierra Madre, the book relates, was sold to A. D. Trussell for $50 an acre. A year later the property which N. C. Carter purchased from 'Lucky' Baldwin in 1881 was selling for $100 an acre and now, writes Mr. Pierce in 1883, "few of the residents would care to sell for less than $200."

"Improvements have been going on rapidly at Sierra Madre during the past season," Mr. Pierce continues. "Between ten and twelve thousand trees, principally apricots and prunes, have been set out, and there will soon be several thousand citrus fruit trees and several hundred acres of vines. Twenty-five houses have been built."

Speaking of Sierra Madre's "first" families, Mr. Pierce writes: "Mr. Carter has built, on a spur of the mountain, a beautiful residence in the Italian villa style. Palmer T. Reed has also built a fine residence on the Bayly Tract adjoining. C. C. Hastings, a New York millionaire, is also improving over 700 acres."

Mr. Pierce says the town's first public school was in charge of "an ex-principal of a large Eastern school, who came here more than a year ago with failing health, and has entirely recovered."

He points with pride to the fact that "a postoffice has been established, a hotel erected, and arrangements have been made to connect the place with Los Angeles by telephone, which has already reached Sierra Madre Villa, one mile away. It will probably not be long before the narrow-gauge railway, which is about to be constructed to Pasadena, will connect this place with all the others along the foothills, and extend on to San Bernardino."

Mr. Pierce could give lessons to many a present-day Chamber of Commerce secretary. He writes:

"The people are mostly from the New England and Central States, and form a very intelligent, enterprising, wide-awake, Yankee community, with as much culture as in any Eastern town of the same size. Here are lawyers, doctors, journalists, teachers, merchants, mechanics and all classes, giving their energies to making delightful homes in this favored spot."

"If the developments of the past year are indications of the future, we must believe that the happiness and prosperity of this new community are assured. With homes under the shadow of the grand old mountains, and looking down on evergreen fields; breathing in alike the salt breezes of the Pacific and the pine and spruce-charged air of the high Sierras; subject to no fierce heats in summer, and with winters that are like the freshest of spring-times; with fine soil and pure water; with railroad and educational facilities, it would be difficult to find a more favored spot or a choicer location for a home."

Offer Santa Anita
As The Proper Name
For Arcadia

Scores of Arcadians and others during the past year have expressed the opinion that the City of Santa Anita, according to Bruce Douglas, Arcadia's leading druggist and business man, who is offering prizes to writers of the best letters on "Why Arcadia's Name Should Be Changed to Santa Anita." Closing date of the contest is December 20.

Douglas points out that the name Santa Anita is virtually synonymous with Arcadia, the city having been carved out of the historic Santa Anita ranch. Numerous subdivisions have incorporated the name into their titles and the race track has attained world recognition with the name Santa Anita.

Sierra Madre, however, is also a part of the old rancho.

John Gilbert's ivory colored Napoleonic bed is to be used as an attraction for honeymooners in the Summit House, resort hotel in the mountains near Uniontown, Pa. It was bought for $1250 by Leo Heyn, manager of the Pennsylvania resort. Heyn also purchased a desk, chifferobe, dressing table and some chairs from Gilbert's Beverly Hills home.

8,000 MILE AUTO TRIP TAKES
SIERRA MADREANS FROM COAST TO COAST AND THE GULF

An improvement "in spite of the administration" is the way the East views the business picture, according to Arthur Johnson Jr., of 169 South Baldwin avenue, who, with Mrs. Johnson and City Treasurer and Mrs. Carlton J. Pegler, returned last week from a 7752-mile motor trip through 22 states, the District of Columbia and Ontario, Canada.

Opinion throughout the East, Mr. Johnson told THE NEWS yesterday, is that business began to pick up when the Supreme Court lopped off the head of the Blue Eagle. Business is on the mend in spite of, rather than because of, New Deal policies, Easterners insist, Mr. Johnson said.

Turning to next Tuesday's election, he predicted New York and Pennsylvania will go Republican and that up-State New York votes will offset the probable Tammany majority in New York City. Genesee, N. Y., the birthplace of Mr. Johnson's mother and the home of former Senator James W. Wadsworth, is 8 to 1 for Landon, he said.

Mr. Johnson mentioned the Bourbon proprietor of a "tourist home" in Virginia who stated that "one of these days this terrific spending by the New Deal has got to stop" and added he was not alone in his opinion.

Saw Buffalo On The Plains

Leaving September 17, the Johnsons and the Peglers went east via Hoover Dam and Salt Lake City, where they "took in" the famous Mormon tabernacle seating 10,000. The building is so acoustically perfect that a pin dropped by their guide was heard the full length of the auditorium.

While driving through Wyoming they saw buffalo roaming the plains near Cheyenne. Cyclone cellars dotted the landscape through Nebraska and Iowa. A service station operator in Sydney, Neb., told them the weather there was 30 below for one solid month last winter—hard to believe, Mr. Johnson, said, with the corn everywhere burned crisp because of the drought.

The party sought out the boyhood home of Mr. Pegler, a farm seven miles out of Laurens, Ia., which the Pegler family left over 40 years ago. An old lean-to, a familiar sight in Mr. Pegler's younger days, was still standing, as were many of the trees, now grown big, he set out in his teens. Mr. Pegler looked up one of his school-day chums, today the sheriff of Pocahontas county, and learned the snow there last winter covered 20-foot telephone poles—and this on level ground.

Reach Eastern
Seaboard

Skirting Chicago, the party continued on to Cleveland, where they visited two sisters and a brother of Mrs. Johnson. They passed through Wilkinsburg, Pa., the Johnsons' old home, and stopped to see another sister of Mrs. Johnson in Johnstown, an undated last spring to the tune of $150,000,000 property damage. They found the town, twice destroyed by historic floods, practically rebuilt.

After seeing Mrs. Johnson's eldest sister in Homer City, Pa., the Sierra Madreans went on to Buffalo and Niagara Falls, (of course on a first or second honeymoon) where Mr. Johnson lived as a boy. It was Mr. and Mrs. Pegler's first visit to the Falls.

Passing through Genesee, N.Y., where society congregates for the fall fox hunts, they passed through Albany and on into Massachusetts via the old Mohawk Trail. The autumn coloring of the foliage in western Massachusetts begged description, Mr. Johnson said.

While in the Back Bay region, they made their headquarters at the home of an aunt of Mrs. Pegler in West Somerville, Mass. They were struck by Boston's narrow streets, the utter lack of any regulation of pedestrian traffic and police officers who hadn't the vaguest idea about the names of their own home-town streets.

En route to New York City
they visited West Point, saw the house used by Gen. Washington as his headquarters and in which Mr. Johnson's father was born.

Huge Buildings House
New Dealers
Mr. Pegler and Mr. Johnson "did" Times Square one evening while the ladies were "resting up." The Peglers went to a show at Radio City, Rockefeller Center, and Mr. Pegler took a peak in the New York Stock Exchange. They describe New York as the easiest city to get in and out of, in spite of its size, as any in the country.

The party went south through Princeton, to Washington, D.C. Most amazing sight in Washington, the Nation's capital, they said, was the vast group of buildings erected during the past three and a half years to house the multitudinous New Deal commissions. Some of the buildings cover an entire city block.

They went to the White House, but "we didn't see Franklin, he was out," Mr. Johnson said.

In Alexandria, Va., they sat in Washington's pew in Christ Church.

One Of The World's Greatest Wonders

Swinging into Tennessee, they drove through Knoxville, Nashville and Memphis. In Dixon, Tenn., Mr. Pegler bumped into a man who turned out to be the former caretaker of the ranch here owned by the grandfather of Miss Thomasella Graham. Next came the Mississippi, and then Arkansas—and the deep South. Impressive, if pathetic, were the wretched hovels housing negro and "poor white trash" sharecroppers. In Texas they took in the Centennial Exposition at Dallas.

They saw darky cotton pickers at work all through Tennessee, Arkansas and Texas. In the Lone Star State they were stopped many times by "long-horns" crossing the highway, oblivious of hurrying tourists.

Crossing the Pecos, they stayed overnight at the Carlsbad Caverns, one of the highlights of the trip. Thirty miles of the caverns have been explored, but only seven are open to the public. The Caverns are electrically lighted throughout.

"You could fly an airplane through the place," said Mr. Pegler. "It's one of the world's greatest wonders."

Discussing various State taxes,

Mr. Johnson said "they even tax you to go to bed" in New Mexico, where the two per cent sales tax applies to lodgings and professional service of doctors and lawyers. The State sales tax there is pyramided on top of the State and federal gas taxes. They paid the highest total tax per gallon of gas in Tennessee—eight cents per gallon of gas in Texas. They paid as high as 14 cents per gallon of gas in Texas.

Cigarettes in Tennessee are sold at 20 cents straight for so-called popular brands.

GAS COOKS BETTER AND COSTS LESS"

It's easy to see why natural gas cooks best. It's fastest—and most adjustable. It gives you any exact degree of cooking heat you want—instead of just two or three rigidly fixed temperatures.

Nearly a million families in Southern California use gas for all their cooking. Their experience proves the economy of this modern fuel. Gas cooking costs less than half as much as other, less desirable methods.

Stop in soon and examine the new model ranges at your gas company or appliance dealer's. Ask especially about the improved ovens. Note the many other advantages.

TAKING THEM AWAY

The "Greatest used car sale in Ford dealer history" is meeting with the approval of numerous thrifty car buyers here as well as in other parts of the country, according to the Sierra Madre Garage, Fortner & Loud and other nearby Ford dealers. Chief reasons for the popularity of the sale are said to be the reduced prices on many makes and models and the Ford dealer money-back guarantee.

Many of the used cars and trucks offered are being marketed under the popular R & G plan which has met with such success during the past year. The R & G label on any used car or truck in the stock of a Ford dealer means that the vehicle, including engine, chassis, tires, ignition, brakes and other parts units have been inspected and repaired or replaced, if found necessary. ### Santa Anita Drive Cries For A Name; Anybody Got One?

Santa Anita avenue, Double Drive, is a street without a name in Sierra Madre.

This fact was brought out when City Clerk Waverly Pratt reported to the Council on Wednesday, that until Sierra Madre officially gives that portion of Santa Anita Drive within the city limits a name, it will be impossible for a boulevard stop sign to be installed at the junction of Grand View avenue and Double Drive. Suggestion that a stop sign be placed at the intersection was made by Councilman Preston Schwartz.

The matter has been referred to the City Planning Commission.

Only that portion of the street within Arcadia city limits bears the official name of Santa Anita Drive. Sierra Madre's section has never been named.

Be Ready For Tax Gatherer --- He's Coming November 5

First installment on Sierra Madre city taxes for 1936-37, together with Los Angeles county taxes, becomes due and payable November 5 and will become delinquent December 1, when a penalty of eight percent will be made. City Clerk Waverly E. Pratt announced yesterday.

The second installment will become delinquent April 20, 1937, when a three per cent penalty will be imposed.

Way Is Cleared For Canyon Park Assessment Relief

Favorable action by the county board of supervisors on the county special assessment committee's recommendation looking towards relief of Canyon Park property owners was reported by Ben J. Grammel, of 669 Sturtevant Drive, to the City Council at its meeting Wednesday night.

Grammel told Council the county board has consented to work with Sierra Madre city officials and taxpayers in an effort to work out a refunding of the local Mattoon district's indebtedness.

The board's action is viewed as the "opening wedge" in behalf of the local committee's efforts.

Some of the airs are minstrel laments while others are cheerful and inspiring numbers.

IN YOUR GARDEN—

FOR GARDEN COLOR AND HOME CHEERFULNESS

What we commonly call larkspur is the annual that grows blooms and dies in one season. It is related to the perennial delphinium, but is entirely different in its habit of growth. Only a few years ago larkspur colors were confined largely to pink, blue and lavender, also white; by cross-pollinating and continuous selection, plantsmen have developed salmon shades which have given them a greater latitude in the development of new color combinations. Habit of growth has also undergone a change for the better. Varieties have been developed.

The Stately Larkspur

oped for the more upright growth, which is such a desirable feature for cut-flower purposes.

Larkspur seeds should be sown where they are to remain. Thin the plants to a distance of 6 or 8 inches apart or if they are planted strictly for cutting purposes, they may be grown very close together. It is generally considered a mistake to transplant larkspurs, for they are apparently more susceptible to fungus attack when transplanted. Larkspurs grow to a height of 2 or 3 feet, and they may be used as a background for other garden plants. It is difficult to germinate the seeds of larkspur in midsummer, when it is too hot, but where the winters are mild, fall and spring plantings may be successfully made.

Great Quest For Radio-Stage Talent Ends Monday Night

California's biggest hunt since the days of the gold rush comes to an end next Monday night (November 2). Its sponsor is "California's Hour" and its object is discovery of a new star to shine in America's radio firmament.

For nearly seven months talent scouts of the big variety show have searched city and countryside for promising amateur and professional talent. Fifteen thousand artists—nervous youngsters and finished veterans faced the microphone in 26 California communities. Out of 15,000, six have survived.

Like knights of yore, the six survivors, bearing the colors of as many "kingdoms" of the State, will meet next Monday night in finals of radio's most unique tournament.

They will tilt with music instead of lances. The tournament ground will be the stage of the vast Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles, from which the finals will be broadcast. And the prize is $500 in cash and a chance for fame.

Club Women Honor Visitor To This City

Angela Morgan, who was entertained in Sierra Madre last summer by Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Carew, has been made Poet Laureate of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs, it is reported by her intimate friends and associates for many years, Lucia Trent and Ralph Cheyney. This recent appointment is announced in a letter they have just received from her requesting their collaboration in the selection of poems for the official organ of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs, "The Clubwoman," stating, "You have your fingers on the pulse of this whole poetry movement... You know just what I need!"

Miss Morgan succeeds the late Lizette Woodworth Reese in this post, which is the closest approach there is to the Poet Laureateship of the entire United States of America. Her selection is natural as she has been the honor poet of Poetry Week and has endeared herself to hundreds of thousands of hearers as well as readers of her poetry throughout the Nation for decades. Her many books, the latest of which is "Crucify Me!" with its title poem dedicated to Lucia Trent and Ralph Cheyney, have sounded a note of high personal and social idealism. Her work is strong in social and spiritual vision. This may well mean that her appointment marks American women are beginning to take a more serious interest in the more serious contributions of poetry to the living of life today.

"One of those things that happen 'right out of the blue,'" so Angela Morgan describes this great honor. She pledges herself to endeavor to utilize it as an opportunity to help weld women for world peace and betterment.

The Future Welfare of Your Free Country is in Your Hands

When Landon is elected President on November 3, he will, figuratively speaking, place one governmental arm of encouragement, help and security around business and one governmental arm of encouragement, help and security around labor.

As your President, Landon will make it his duty and work to endeavor to bring about the nearest approach to an ideal relationship between business and labor that yet has been accomplished in the 150 years of our National life. Landon never will stir up class hatred.

As your President, Landon will ask for and receive the cooperation of business and labor in raising labor to a higher plane, in creating new jobs, and in bettering the condition of business.

As your President, Landon will give you a sane, just and fair administration, so that every man, woman and child may rely upon the government's honesty of purpose and upon the President's word.

As your President, Landon will carry out present governmental work project commitments, but he will take waste out of the expenditure of your taxpayers money and carry on the projects without injuring the status of the workers. He will better their condition as rapidly as possible.

As your President, Landon will take NO ONE off relief who deserves to be there.

Fred Krinke Smacks Old Bowling Pins For High Marks

Fred Krinke and Lee Schaefer of Sierra Madre, members of the Goodrich bowling team of the Pasadena major league, are mowing down the pins with consistently high averages and helping the tire quartet to maintain its hold on second place, close to the leaders, in the valley tourney now in progress.

Krinke, member of the Monrovia Elks team, returned recently from Oakland with a championship medal. The Monrovia captured the California State Elks bowling title by defeating a strong San Mateo outfit.

Last year Krinke bowled in 81 games for an average of 186, and his mark so far this season is several points higher.

Back To Normal

As business conditions improve, more and more firms and individuals are going to use letterheads and printed forms. We are already noticing a very considerable increase in the demand.

Firms that abandoned them during the depression are coming back to printing and engraving. New ventures are being launched and changes are taking place. Successful young organizations are reaching the point where they should use printing. Professional men are becoming more active, realizing that dignified printing lends prestige to their business.

It will increase the importance and respect for all business. And it costs so little in comparison with the results it brings. There is no printing requirement that cannot be promptly, reasonably and well done in THE NEWS printery. Don't dicker along—swinging with the uptrend.

Santa Anita Oaks Homes Restricted To Enhance Values

Restrictions placed on Santa Anita Oaks homes has started a new vogue in subdivision control, according to the Raymond A. Dorn Co., developers.

Feeling that restrictions are of vital importance, that they maintain and enhance property values if carefully administered, the developers declare that homes built this or next year on Sierra Madre's border line will not violate restrictions imposed five years or more later.

Prospective home builders at Santa Anita Oaks will be required to build according to specifications approved by an architectural committee of the subdivision developers and home owners.

Plan Huge Drive To Broaden Market For Local Avocados

Executives of 37,000 chain stores in the United States have agreed to stage an intensive selling and advertising campaign to help California avocado growers move the largest crop in history.

This announcement was made yesterday by George E. Hodgkin, general manager of Calavo Growers of California in a message to the membership of his organization. The drive will start shortly after January 1.

Hodgkin hailed the chain store pledge as the most encouraging development in the avocado industry in years. "It will mean an increase in grower returns of between $300,000 and $400,000, and it will mean our California product gets a chance to sell itself to new consumers," he declared.

College Graduates Tell How They Got Their First Job

R. G. Watt, psychology professor, who is in charge of the study. Thirty universities in the country are conducting a similar survey to obtain a national cross-section picture of conditions.
